How to play

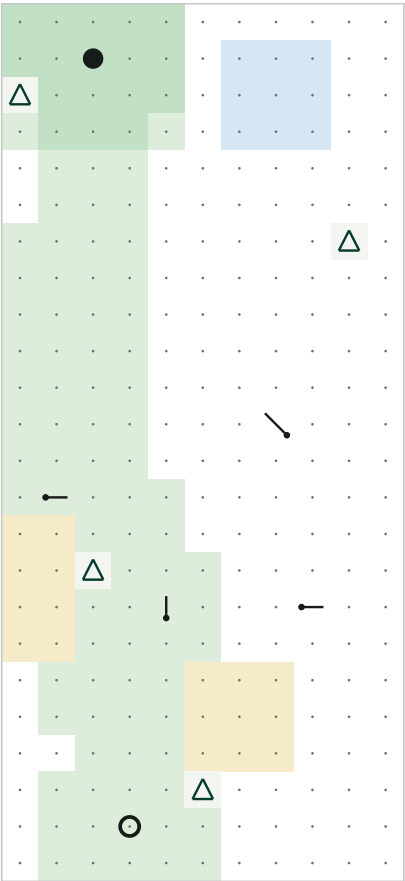

- 1. Each stroke goes in a straight line, one of eight directions, a whole number of spaces.
- 2. The die sets the distance. Add a space from the fairway, take one away from sand.
- 3. A one-space putt is always available, whatever the die says.
- 4. The ball flies over water but cannot land in it, and only clears trees when the stroke starts on the fairway.
- 5. You hole out by stopping on the cup, or by rolling one space past it. Two spaces past is a miss.
- 6. Par is six on every hole, so a clean round is 108.

The card

-  Fairway, one space further on every hit
-  Rough, no help and no penalty
-  Sand trap, one space shorter
-  Water, fly over it but never land in it
-  Trees, only clear them when hitting from the fairway
-  Slope, land on the arrow and roll one more space
